

2022-23 FINAL CHANGES TO THE SCHOOL QUALITY REPORTS

This document describes the final changes to the 2022-23 School Quality Reports. These changes build on the methodology described in the 2021-22 and 2018-19 Educator Guides to the School Quality Reports.

Description	Rule for 2021-22	Rule for 2022-23
Display ratings	The rating chart on the first page of the School Quality Snapshot (and at the top of each tab) was blank for all schools due to COVID-19. Section ratings and metric ratings throughout the report were “N/A.”	The ratings will resume being displayed at the top of each tab in the School Quality Snapshot and the Dashboard.  The 2022-23 School Quality Reports do not incorporate targets into ratings, as they were not prepared in advance for schools to meet. The 2022-23 Educator Guide explains how ratings are calculated for 2022-23 School Quality Reports.
Display comparison group	The Comparison Group was omitted due to COVID-19.	Comparison Group results will be calculated for the 2022-23 school year, and city/district/borough averages will be displayed on the Snapshot.  The methodology for calculating Comparison Group results was updated in the 2023-24 School Quality Reports in collaboration with Blueprint Labs at MIT. The updated methodology for calculating Comparison Group results are explained in the 2022-23 Educator Guide .
Display for-profit college information	College-going students were reported based on these categories: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• CUNY (City University of New York) Four-year</li> <li>• CUNY (City University of New York) Two-year</li> <li>• New York State Public</li> <li>• New York State Private</li> <li>• Out of State</li> <li>• Other</li> </ul>	College-going students will be divided into these categories: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• CUNY (City University of New York) Four-year</li> <li>• CUNY (City University of New York) Two-year</li> <li>• New York State Public</li> <li>• New York State Private (non-profit)</li> <li>• Out of State (non-profit)</li> <li>• For-profit Institution</li> <li>• Other</li> </ul>
Addition of CLEP to CCPCI	The College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) was not included in the College and Career Prep Course Index (CCPCI) metric.	Students who earned college credit via the CLEP program will count positively toward the CCPCI metric.
Addition of Seal of Civic Readiness to CCPCI	This seal was not offered in prior years.	Students who earned the Seal of Civic Readiness will count positively toward the College and Career Prep Course Index (CCPCI) metric.
